COMPANY OVERVIEW

LiaiCon is a management consulting firm, specializing in cradle-to-grave contract management for federal agencies and contractors. We provide a full range of acquisition planning and procurement support to help organizations fulfill their operational needs in compliance with federal regulations and contract laws.

Our contract specialists have extensive experience using different acquisition procedures to establish fixed-price, cost reimbursement, and time & material (T&M) contracts for products, services, construction, and research & development (R&D).

We also provide technical writing expertise to help clients develop complex technical specifications, acquisition documents, standard operating procedures, and training material to facilitate organizational continuity and operational resiliency.
